

All the applications you need, conveniently bundled for the most complete collaboration experience.

Video conferencing shouldn't just be about having meetings. It should be about accelerating decision making, sharing ideas, collaborating with the larger team and having fun, productive, face-to-face discussions.

With the new LifeSize UVC bundles, you can do that and more.

Everything you need in a turnkey solution

LifeSize UVC bundles give you all of the key applications you need to deliver the most complete collaboration experience to your organization.

Imagine joining one-to-one and group meetings via a centralized directory, scheduling a video meeting from your calendar, easily sharing content and streaming and recording your videos. All this and more is easily accessible from a PC, Mac, mobile device or LifeSize meeting room system.*

Sizes and packages

The bundles come in three sizes—small, medium and large—each designed to provide optimal performance for up to 100, 250 or 500 users. And the LifeSize UVC bundles are scalable to grow with your business, protecting your investment.
